

Ewa Wolak Mezzo-Soprano

Alste & Mödersheim

Polish mezzo-soprano Ewa Wolak possesses a voice with a huge range and easiness. She is at home with Händel's coloraturas as well as Verdi's and Wagner's alto roles. These unique qualities have brought her to many major opera houses and concert halls around the world.

Wolak received her musical training at the music conservatory in Cracow (viola, singing) and at the University of Music in Karlsruhe. She is a prizewinner of the IVC 's Hertogenbosch, the Grand Prix Maria Callas in Athens, as well as a recipient of the European Union Prize for Cultural Heritage. In 2011, she was awarded the title of Kammersängerin.

Her biggest successes include the title role in Carmen, Fricka in Die Walküre and Das Rheingold, Cornelia in Giulio Cesare, La Cieca in La Gioconda, Gaea in Daphne, Olga in Eugene Onegin, Isabella in L'Italiana in Algeri, Ms. Quickly in Verdi's Falstaff, Marceline in Le nozze di Figaro, Leonora in Scarlatti's Il Trionfo dell'onore, Constanze in Haydn's L'isola disabitata, Marte in Gounod's Faust, and, most recently, Fidès in Meyerbeer's Le Prophète.

She has also performed many of Händel's opera roles such as Eduige in Rodelinda, Bradamante in Alcina, Irene in Tamerlano, Carilda in Arianna in Creta, and the title roles in Amadigi and Salomon.

Ewa Wolak's recent and upcoming engagements include Erda in Das Rheingold and Siegfried, Schwertleite in Die Walküre, Ulrica in Un ballo in maschera at Deutsche Oper Berlin, Finnish National Opera, Opéra National de Lorraine Nancy and the Luxembourg Grand theatre and Malmö Opera, 3rd Lady in Die Zauberflöte at Théâtre Capitole of Toulouse, Dalila in Samson et Dalila at Staatstheater Karlsruhe, where she has been a resident soloist since 1998, and Jocaste in Stravinsky's Oedipus Rex at Oper Graz. Her Ms. Quickly at the Malmö Opera in autumn 2020 was cancelled because of the Covid-19 pandemic.

As a frequent concert artist, Ewa Wolak has performed at numerous festivals all over Europe including the Händel-Festspiele of Göttingen and Karlsruhe, the Warsaw Autumn, Tyrolean Festival, Vilnius Festival, and Wratistavia Cantans. Wolak is often heard in concerts with the works of Krzysztof Penderecki conducted by the composer himself.

Updated September 2021